VOCATIONAL TRAINING ASSISTANCE

Vocational Training assistance is available for eligible applicants who pursue job skills necessary to obtain and/or retain employment.

Services are available to assist eligible applicants who were accepted to attend a certified vocational trade school, certificate, diploma or apprenticeship program at an accredited institution. Programs must be full-time and in an institutional setting.

Vocational Training funds are supplemental, therefore, applicants must apply for all other available funding sources that include but are not limited to: state, federal, local and private financial aid as well as utilize student and family resources to contribute to their educational costs. It is the responsibility of an applicant to apply for additional financial aid. In no case will Nome Eskimo Community (NEC) provide assistance to cover the total financial need of students.

Training must be in occupations for which there is a need in the labor market. In the event that there is no labor demand for the training requested, NEC reserves the right to deny financial assistance to an applicant. NEC may reconsider the denial should an applicant provide documentation from a business or employer indicating that he/she will be employed after the completion of training.

Repeat Applicants – those who received previous vocational training services - will be low priority for consideration of funding. These requests will be determined on an individual basis and considered by need, ability, prior performance, present motivation and current employment opportunities available for an applicant. An applicant must be unemployed and have valid justification for not utilizing previous skills or training. No more than one (1) repeat service will be considered and approved.

Repeat applications will be considered for applicants unable to work in his/her primary occupation due to physical and/or other disabilities.

Incarcerated individuals are eligible to apply for assistance pending approval from the Department of Corrections. Released individuals may apply at any time. Applications are subject to approval on a case-by-case basis.

No funding will be provided for private pilot or flight instructor licenses. Funding for commercial licenses, multi-engine and instrument ratings will be limited to a total of ten (10) months of training.

Eligibility Criteria

- 1) Tribal member of NEC.
- 2) Unemployed, under-employed, or possess limited or no job skills. Individuals who require additional training to retain employment or enhance job skills are eligible to apply.
- 3) Applicants must show documented financial need after having applied for additional resources.

Non-Residents

NEC Tribal members who have moved and no longer reside in the Bering Strait region are eligible to apply for a $1,500 grant, which will be applied toward tuition, fees & books or school-related expenses. These grants are one time only.

Applicants are expected to demonstrate commitment to their training. This can be accomplished by making a personal contribution from savings or applying for other financial aid such as the Pell Grant (if available through the school), the Alaska Student Loan, and/or other local or private resources. These resources will be applied to training costs.

Application Deadline

A complete application - that includes all required documents - must be received at least one (1) month before the training program starts. The Tribal Services staff will adhere to the application deadline.

Application Procedures (Applicants Must Submit the Following Documents)

- 1) Vocational Training Application.
- 2) Official high school and/or college transcripts.
- 3) High School Diploma or General Education Diploma certificate.
- 4) Training and career goals essay identifying training needs and employment plans after completion of training.
- 5) Two letters of recommendation.
- 6) School Acceptance Letter.
- 7) Current photograph of applicant.

Termination

Should a participant be terminated from a training program or chose to leave before completion of the program, NEC reserves the right to deny further financial assistance for travel, personal needs or any other costs incurred after the participants' last day of the program.
